TROCHE MOLD w/SLEEVE (30 Cavity, Pink)
Plastic

DESCRIPTION: Whether formulating combinations of medications for geriatric patients in a nursing home, providing sublingual therapy for a menopausal woman, or flavorful medications for children or finicky pets, troche molds provide your practice with a versatile tool for a variety of therapeutic needs. Troche molds allow various active ingredients to be combined in a single sublingual dosage form and can also be flavored to meet individualized patient's tastes. In addition, MEDISCA's troche molds are scored to facilitate dividing doses in halves and quarters, if needed. Also included are troche sleeves for ease of dispensing so pharmacy labels can be placed directly on the sleeve. Lastly, they are available in a variety of color schemes to aid in differentiating compounds or in distinguishing your practice!
